

Prayer for My Sister

Dear God,

Thank you for the promise of this day, this hour, this affirming and comforting time in which you give us room to just say, "thank you". I thank you for the presence of my sisters. God, give my sister holy confidence and holy boldness. Give her spiritual discernment and a strong prayer life. Give her the knowledge that she is necessary. And when it seems that she is too tired to make one more step. Give her peace in her spirit and rest in her body. Give her trust in you, Lord. Give her the blessed assurance that she can do all things through Christ Jesus.

Comfort her in her sadness, her overwhelm, and her "just can't take no more." Let her know that you are able, and that you care. Give her love for herself and love for others. Give her the will to love her sisters and affirm her sisters and grow her sisters. Let her know she is the righteousness of God, let her live out all that being the righteousness of God entails. Bless my sister financially, emotionally, physically, and spiritually. Let her know that no weapon formed against her shall prosper. Give my sister courage to see life just as it is. The courage to see truth and then to speak truth. God of provision, give her the faith to walk onward and upward. Lift her up where she belongs. Let her step out on faith, knowing you will catch her, or she will learn to fly. Lord, help my sister to be the true inheritor of all that you purposed for her life before the beginning of time. Give her strength to press on in the face of discouragement, disillusionment, and dejection. Help us to love one another as true sisters. Give us visions and dreams of the mighty works our joined hands can achieve when we walk together, pray together, sing together, and make disciples for Christ together. In the precious name of Jesus we pray and claim it all as done. Amen and Ache.

Copyright 2005. All rights reserved. Valda Jean Combs